

Team,

We have decided to start using Bric to plan and track time. Bric gives time tracking a new purpose. It uses machine learning to find patterns in your timesheets. These patterns are used to recommend more accurate project plans.

Designed specifically for creatives and technologists, Bric will help us create more accurate project plans so that you have enough time to do work you are proud of, and can avoid rushing to meet deadlines.

We will be discussing Bric at our next team meeting. I will show you how we will use Bric, and you will receive invites to Bric after our meeting.

Thank you,
